

C4 Street

Video, Sound, and Voice Transcript

Video: VCR tape being placed into a slot.

Sound: A woman's voice: "And five children. And killed five children."

Thumbnail image: Text on slide, "Please Standby"

Video: Middle aged woman speaking to VICE news.

Sound: Woman speaking, "My name is Ramona Africa and I was there when the police dropped a bomb on me and my family May 13 of 1985 and killed 11 of my members. I was there."

Video: Images of destroyed homes, the aftermath of bombing, an '80s van with "Medical Exa—" on the side

Thumbnail image: Text on slide scrolling down, "Dedicated to Boo, Delisha, John, Zanetta, Raymond, Phil, James, Tree, Rhonda, Theresa, Frank and those impacted by state-sponsored violence globally."

Video: Spinning globe pinpoints West Philadelphia

Sound: Woman newscaster speaking, "On a home on Osage Avenue in West Philadelphia where members of the MOVE organization lived. The bombing and fire that followed killed six adults and five children."

Thumbnail image: Text on a slide, with letters sliding into place, "This chapter of creative critical work and rhetorical practice marshals satire as civil civic discourse. Backed by scholarship of theater and rhetorical studies (Boal, Rancière), 'C4 Street' (a political-satirical nod to Sesame Street) troubles spectator passivity and works toward opportunities for embodiment."

Thumbnail image: Text on slide, "WELL, YOU MISSED THE TURN FOR SESAME STREET A FEW BLOCKS BACK."

Thumbnail image: Text on slide, "WELCOME TO C4 STREET, THE SOON-TO-BE-SITE OF THE 1985 MOVE BOMBING. YOU MIGHT THINK YOU'RE IN THE CITY OF BROTHERLY LOVE—"

Thumbnail image: Text on slide “—BUT 500 POLICE OFFICERS BEG TO DIFFER. THE DAY AFTER MOTHER'S DAY, THEY'RE ON THE GROUND IN SWAT GEAR WITH .50 AND .60 CALIBER MACHINE GUNS AND AN ANTI-TANK MACHINE GUN.”

Thumbnail image: Text on slide, “DON'T EVEN BOTHER CALLING FOR HELP, HIPPIES.”

Sound: Broadcast news sound

Video: Three adults in costume stand in front of a brick building with stairs and a railing. Character one speaks out of a microphone. Character two, with trash in her hair, popping out of a can, delivers lines, and then an adult dressed as a child with a backpack, glasses, and hat delivers lines.

Character with Megaphone: “On May 13, 1984 syndicates were involved in a razing-related incident with a C4 bomb, sixty-one homes, and 10,000 rounds of ammunition, and five children.”

Character with Trash in Hair: “Syndicates were involved in a razing-related incident with a C4 bomb, 61 homes, and 10,000 rounds of ammunition while there were five children.”

Young kid: “While there were five children. Ten thousand rounds of amm-un-ition and five children. Ten thousand rounds of amm-un-ition and five children. And killed five children. Five of us were children.”

Video: Scrolling through image of The Economist article. Adobe Stock videos of Philadelphia and the event followed by works cited page.

Sound: Disturbing music followed by silence

Cast

Stage Director: Gabrielle Wilkosz

Videographer: Jackie Rhodes

Hair and Costumes: Freddie Harris

Character with Trash in Hair: Frances Chapman

Character with Megaphone:

Young kid: Lydia McDermott